Reading and Comprehension

Read the passage carefully.

Sonu rang his grandparents' doorbell and wished the next four hours would go by quickly. He didn't want to give up his entire Saturday afternoon at his grandparents' house where there were no kids in the neighbourhood. "You're right on time," Grandma said, opening the door. "There's tea and cake in the dining room." Cake? At least the first ten minutes would go by quickly.

Sonu hung his coat on the stand by the door and saw a strange looking key hanging on a hook. "Grandpa, what's this funny key for?" "That's a skeleton key. It opens the best room in this house," Grandpa whispered, so no one else could hear. "It's the room I go to when your grandmother tries to make me help with the dishes." "What's so special about the room?" Sonu asked. "It's a game room," Grandpa said. "Take the key and see if you can find the room by the time I finish my tea."

Sonu grabbed the key and stared at it. "A skeleton key? It looks old." Sonu thought about the oldest part of a house. "The basement! It's the first part that's built." He rushed to the basement door and looked at the lock. It was different from a normal lock. He slid the key inside and turned it. With a click, the door opened. Sonu switched on the light and walked down the stairs. The basement was one giant room with a table tennis set in the middle and a dartboard on the far wall. "Awesome!" Sonu said. "Want to play?" Grandpa asked, coming down the stairs. "Yes," Sonu smiled. The next four hours were going to go by fast.
